

MICHAEL RICHARDS, 6 KILLED BY B&M TRAIN

Tragedy struck suddenly, yesterday afternoon, at the family of Mr and Mrs Norman Richards of Baker Street.

Michael Richards, their six year old son was killed by a locomotive of the Boston & Maine Railroad, as he played with a dog near the railroad right of way.

Michael, who was a student at the Mildred H Rogers School, was killed at 4:18 pm. The engineer in charge of the train told Police Officer Fred Ward that he had seen the boy cross the track, and then go back again, apparently trying to convince a dog to follow him. He could not avoid striking the child, he said.

Michael was taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn in the Avco Ambulance, and was pronounced dead on arrival. He had been struck a glancing blow on his head.

Fr. Lawrence Drennan of Saint Dorothy's Church, one of the first to arrive at the scene, performed the last rites of the Catholic Church.

Michael was in the first grade. There are two other children in the Richards family, Kenneth, 12 and Susan, 9.

LBJ's Surprise BRAD MORSE PREDICTED IT

The world wide bombshell of President Lyndon Johnson, Sunday evening, in his announcement of not being a candidate, was known to very very few persons, in advance. U Thant, Secretary General of the United Nations, and Vice President Huber H Humphrey and possibly one or two more persons seem to be the only ones who knew of the announcement, in advance of its being made.

But Wilmington and Woburn Republican Committee members and their friends, attending a party in the Woburn Country Club on Friday evening, were told that it would happen - 48 hours in advance.

The man who made the announcement was Congressman F. Bradford Morse (R), representative of the 5th (Middlesex) District.

Morse's statement was not an 'iffy' one. He predicted flatly that President Johnson would not be a candidate. It wasn't until 48 hours later that the Wilmington Republicans who were present realized the significance of his statement.

Congressman Morse, during the party, recognized Mrs Wavie Drew former Chairman of the Wilmington Town Republican Committee, and the response was, for Mrs Drew, a standing ovation.

THE LIONS AND ROTARIANS OF WILMINGTON: Had their annual Joint Meeting, last night, in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Clubhouse.

Over $20 in fines were collected, a quarter at a time, and President John Elia of the Rotary Club announced that Rotarian Rodney Buck had finally achieved his life's ambition, and had been admitted to the Old Age Housing, on Deming Way. Elia also sold the Lions Club gong.

Citizen Work Parties Planned for Saturday

The Stream and Drainage Improvement Committee is planning to have Saturday a Work Day.

As many groups as can be organized, of volunteers, will work on clearing streams and ditches, and otherwise improving the drainage of Wilmington.

Chairman Jack Quinn has chosen the entrance to the former Fred Smith gravel pit, off Woburn St. as a meeting point for the volunteers, at 1 pm Saturday. For newcomers to Wilmington, the old entrance road to the gravel pit is almost opposite 409 Woburn Street.

Volunteers are asked to wear hip boots, and be armed with iron rakes and long handled shovels. Other equipment will be brought by the committee.

It is planned that the volunteers will work until 5 pm. One group has already been organized from the Boy Scouts of Troop 56, the Congregational Church.

APPOINTED TOWN ENGINEER OF NORTH READING

Domenic V. Tutela of School Street has been appointed Town Engineer and Superintendent of Public Works of the Town of North Reading. The appointment was made last Thursday, by the Board of Public Works of that town.

The position is reported to pay a salary of $14,000 a year.

Student Selectmen Have Fun

The Student Board of Selectmen, elected by their High School friends a few weeks ago, at the time of the regular elections in Wilmington, had a lot of fun, Monday night, in being Wilmington's Board of Selectmen for an hour or so.

They joked occasionally, and talked of many things, shifting back and forth in their subjects, much in the same manner as do their mentors, the Selectmen of Wilmington.

It was good fun, and sometimes it was impossible to tell whether or not a student selectman was engaging in a private joke, on his own accord. Everyone enjoyed it, even the Town Manager, who several times demonstrated with physical activity how a Town Manager can be 'stabbed in the back!'

The meeting was held in the Selectmen's meeting room, Monday evening, in conjunction with the 'real' Board of Selectmen.

Bill McAllister, Chairman of the Board, presided, with Selectmen David Knight, Bill Montuori and Chuck Nickerson. Philip Krey was unable to be present. Student Town Manager Richard Lyford was present though.

The first item of their agenda was Recreation - for the youth of Wilmington. Nickerson told his fellow Selectmen that now there were loitering laws in Wilmington and young people couldn't assemble anywhere. They had to make their own fun. He thought it would be nice if the public schools were open for their use - the gyms, etc.

If not, he predicted, something was going to happen - because a lot of kids had nothing to do.

George Boylen, who with the other 'real' Selectmen, was present, even though he had to take a back seat, asked if the kids wanted some block dances.

After the young men found out what block dances were they responded enthusiastically.

But the subject changed to a more mundane one. Potholes in the streets.

Chairman McAllister reported that Town Manager Richard Lyford was concerned about the pot holes. McAllister added an audible comment that Lyford had not been able to be elected Selectmen, whereon Wilmington's 'real' Town Manager Sterling Morris grinned and whispered 'Politics!'

Miceli, who always speaks up, even when he isn't a Selectman, couldn't be stopped on this one. He spoke up to ask if the Student Selectmen had called the 'real' Town Manager. The response was that the students had found out by 'the grapevine'.

Again Sterling Morris grinned, PAGE ELEVEN

25 Years Ago a field was Named For

LAWRENCE GERARD HANSCOM

(WRITTEN BY TWO LADIES OF THE WILMINGTON WOMEN'S CLUB)

Twenty-five years ago, on February 11, 1943, the airfield in Bedford was named for Lawrence G. Hanscom, a pioneer in aviation who helped form the Massachusetts wing of the Civil Air Reserves and became its commander.

Many residents of Wilmington do not realize that Mr Hanscom was a resident of Wilmington, coming here as a small lad with his family home on Shawshen Avenue.

Ford Hanscom, Larry's father, was a kind and gentle man, and his mother, a lovely sedate woman, was the beloved and respected President of the Wilmington Women's Club from 1931 to 1934.

Lawrence Gerard Hanscom spent his life in Wilmington, attended the schools and shared in the activities of his age group. He was a thoughtful and out-going person who made friends easily, and whatever he did, he liked doing well. All his High School classmates were glad to count him as a friend.

It would be interesting to know what the class prophet forecast for him, when he graduated in 1923, but we doubt that it could predict the path in life that Larry Hanscom was to follow.

He worked his way from the obscurity of an office boy status in a metropolitan newspaper to an eminent position as a State House reporter.

Briefly, he served with the Wilmington News, a paper published in Wilmington about thirty years ago. He 'covered' this town as a district man, under the aegis of the Globe's Woburn Correspondent. He 'ran copy' for the Globe night desk. Because he was a 'natural' newspaperman he found his way to a spot on the daily staff and eventually to the proud distinction of a State House Reporter for the Boston Globe. He had a long and varied career, working with members of the General Court.

Yet, even as he won a place for himself as a most valued member of the Globe's talented editorial staff - Lawrence Hanscom found himself devoting most of his spare time to aviation. He tinkered with airplane engines; read avidly of books and papers concerned with what was a new science - practical air transport. He played a leading role in the development of aeronautics in that pre-Lindberg era when frail open cockpit craft challenged the skies. He won his wings as a pilot in a day when pilot licenses were rare - and his log showed more than 3000 hours in the air.

When Hitler forced his terrible catastrophe of World War II on this world, in the late 30's, Lawrence knew that aviation and mastery of the air would finally decide the issue. He sought to join the fledgling United States Army Air Corps, but was turned down because he was 34 years old, even though they recognized his great contribution to aeronautics.

Pearl Harbor had not yet come, though it was apparent, in February 1941, that the lightning of war would soon strike her.

Lawrence sent an application to the Royal Canadian Air Force, along with letters of recommendation from the Governor of Massachusetts, and the Chairman of the State Aeronautics Commission.

Lawrence Hanscom was still awaiting action on that application on Sunday, February 9, 1941. He was still perfecting his skills that afternoon. His plane crashed in Saugus -- and when people reached the wreckage he was dead.

Two years later, the Massachusetts Legislature, whose members know Lawrence Hanscom and his contributions to the advance of aviation, voted to name an embryonic air field in Bedford in his honor. Today that field occupies land in Bedford, Concord and Lexington. It is one of the most important air installations in the world. It has an annual payroll of nearly 100 million dollars. It's future in war and peace is beyond assessment.

Here in Wilmington we can share a justifiable pride. After all, he was a Wilmington boy.

In Your Service
at the State House

BY SENATOR RONALD MacKENZIE

The events of the last week compel me to briefly report to you on a most timely subject - the Inland Wetlands Bill, H. 3876.

Last year, as many of you will remember, this bill was killed on the very last evening of the session. I was one of those who wholeheartedly endorsed and supported this concept which would protect our Inlands and Swamps throughout the Commonwealth. If those sponges and water absorbents are not preserved, future floods will be even greater in impact and severity than the ones we have just undergone.

It should be obvious to everyone that the more macadam and concrete we spread over the landscape, the less area will be preserved to hold these great quantities of water in the early spring. Nature provided the safeguards, and man seems bent on removing them.

This weekend, I spent some time visiting the areas up through Bedford and Billerica, where scores of homes were under water. Although the passage of last year's Wetlands Bill obviously would not have prevented these tragedies, most certainly there is evidence that the time has passed when we can afford to wait on conservation measure.

I would like to point out also that when I talked to the people in the many homes that were surrounded by water, almost as one they commented on the terrific job done by the local Civil Defense people, the Fire Departments, and the Police Departments.

One man, a Mr White from Billerica, was typical of the steady factors of our local people, as he maintained five pumps in his house and managed quite successfully to hold off the water and mud that had engulfed the area. Less fortunate was one of his neighbors who is suffering from a severe illness and had to leave behind lifelong belongings and personal treasures.

I received many telephone calls from the other communities which were having trouble from the lack of proper drainage, and it certainly points up the good intent of the conservation commissions to make sure that proper attention is given to builders who would place homes in the way of natural watersheds.

Their work is very important, not only for conservation, but to eliminate great tragedies for home owners who have purchased homes in dry seasons, only to find in wet seasons that their house is in a natural lake area.

I had some water in my own basement as did many of my neighbors, and I would like everyone to know that once again the Lord does not play any favorites between Senators and non-Senators.

There are sportsmen who have a bill in the Legislature to purchase land under a bond issue for hunting and recreation which would also go a long way toward alleviating the problem, and I testified in favor of it this week.

Hey, you folks, the Postmaster gave us the release on the SAM and Pal mail for overseas to the boys. It is written up as an article in the paper elsewhere, so check and clip that blurb, huh? So you'll have same. If the Post Office gets as many phone calls as I do about it, they must have to have a full-time telephone answerer.

The cars should be clean in the next two weeks; The Senior Class is holding a Car Wash on Saturday, April 6 from 9 to 6 pm in the High School Parking Lot to help reduce the prom costs.

The following Saturday, April 13, the Junior MYF is having a Car Wash and Bake Sale in the Parking lot at the Methodist Church. The want you to get your car all shiny for Easter and get some goodies to serve at your Easter Dinner at the same time!

Stop by and see that Trojan Horse that the kids built in the foyer of the North Intermediate School. It's a work of art and almost big enough to ship the men in. (Wonder if that would work in Vietnam!)

You're really helping me and the gals out with the yarn now. Keep up the good work. The DAV sent us enough for two afghans this week. The Christmas Gremilin showed up with another done, and one 3/4 finished, and went home with enough yarn for another. (Wow she sure can make those needles go. We were worried about you, there, Gremilin. Nellie had just spoken to me and wondered if anything was wrong because she hadn't seen you for a few weeks. But we see you are holding up your reputation. Take time to breathe anyway, will you? We love that gal!). Nellie Patchel, who used to be Doc Davis's secretary has now retired, and she is spending all her time knitting too, we hear. She brought a beautiful one in this week and is working on another. Keep them coming, gals!

Nellie Thompson will have your display ready in the Depot on the week of the fifteenth. Naturally, when I wrote that last week, in my own way, Nellie didn't know about it (What my friends do put up with!) She took ten into the hospital this week and here she will tell you about it in her own words:

'On Thursday, Mar 28, I went to the Chelsea Naval Hospital with 12 afghans. I was escorted into the Administrative Office where I was introduced to Commander Frisbie and his staff. He informed me there are presently 750 patients at the Hospital, including 175 wounded Vietnam Veterans. 'I was then taken to Ward 15 where I personally presented these afghans to 12 of the boys. There are 40 boys in this Ward, and I promised them I would be back with more very soon.

'The smiles on their faces and the gratitude they expressed has made every penny and every minute spent on this project well worth while.

'Please thank everyone who has helped in any way to make this such a success. Shall report again after my next trip. Nellie L. Thompson'

(And Nellie is certainly making her mark in the world with her good work, as is Walter, who does all the chauffeuring, etc. My heart is certainly singing from the good work you are doing! She was so touched by those Vets and their response to her and the afghans, that now she crochets 26 hours a day instead of 24, and Walter washes the floor! She was almost to the point of tear while telling me about it, seriously. You're a great couple!)

Let's go to it, folks, and help them out some more. How about you gals at Sweetheart, Joanne? And Diamond Crystal, Judy? We really feel that you gals should get together and help us out on the yarn anyway! Let's go, all of you that I haven't hear from.

One gal took my word this week about the housecleaning. She arrived at the Depot with nine bags of stuff—eight full of toys and games for Vietnam and one chock full of odds and ends of yarn. That's what we love to see! In fact, it was so much stuff, that we haven't shipped to the Sanctuary yet, because we haven't had the time to pack nor the money to mail it yet....Whoops, Hamburg again next week, kids....maybe we can try.... would you believe meatloaf, Clan?

Have had a promise of one complete sixth grade of pen pals for those kids on the Sanctuary, Tom and Marc. Send along those names I know this one will be contagious!

Dave Orndorff, in Vietnam sent us a postcard of the Nagoya Castle in Nagoya with the following message: 'Hi, Hope you and all the people at home are fine. Just thought I'd drop you a line and let you know I am fine and getting SHORT 7-1/2 months. I've been trying to find a postcard for the longest time and finally one of my buddies got me one on his leave to Japan. Keep up the good work and love your column. Dave' (Thanks, Dave, and we loved that 'Home, Sweet Home' with the arrow pointing to Wilmington on the address....the PO did too!)

And all of the good ones aren't in Vietnam! Marie Mason of the Town was on the way to her train in Reading. (Marie is 75, and at her young age waits on table at Durgin Park. What a gal!) She noticed that she had lost her earring, which was for pierced ears. This was last Monday. She was upset that she couldn't find it. Chuck Sabini, of 18 Prescott St in Reading was taking the same train with his new fiancée and had offered to help her look for them. When they didn't find them he offered to meet her on the way home which is at eleven o'clock.

When she got off the train, there was Chuck with a big flashlight! They looked and looked, and Chuck was on his hands and knees behind the car. He jumped up and told her he'd give her something if she'd give him a big hug, with which she complied. There was the diamond part of her earring! What a guy, and she offered him a reward, since these were quite valuable, but he refused it....He told her that he figured 'honesty was the best way to live!' Congratulations to you, Chuck, and may God Bless You and your new bride! (Be sure that you hitch those earrings securely from now on, Marie. Next time Chuck might not be around!)

We hear at the Republican Town Committee Dance last weekend, Brad Morse addressed the group and introduced another young lady of the town who lived up to the ideals of America in every way... She was from Wilmington, and is our own Wavie Drew. Congratulations, Wavie! Hear that Mayor Gill of Woburn was there as well as Senator Ron McKenzie.

St Dorothy's Catholic Church will host the concluding discussion of the 'Ventures in Understanding' on Tuesday, May 14, at 8:00 pm. These talks have been presented monthly by the Wilmington Council of Churches and St Thomas Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, a community effort to bring about Christian Unity.

Wilmington Wittle Wimmie had their meeting on Tuesday March 26. They had easter accessories hats, bags, and gloves, through the courtesy of W T Grant's. At the next meeting, there will be a drawing for a handcrocheted Granny Afghan made by Sally Stokes of Tewksbury!

The meeting is Tuesday nite at 22 School Street at the home of Alva Drimon, 658-6870, as we understand it and you are all welcome—you gals who want to have fun and Wittle the figure a bit!

Did you know that Diane Fielding has plenty of fertilizer, at her barn on Hopkins Street, and you can have it for taking it away....Mrs John Muir is at the Union Hospital in Lynn....Mrs Hien Miller is at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn....and Mrs Susan Stiles.... is celebrating her 95th birthday on Tuesday, April 9, at the Gall Nursing Home on Summer Street in Reading....Rev Herbert Coontz has returned from the hospital and is resting at home....Make with those cards there, folks!

Do you know what Christian Scientists really believe?

Relatively few people do.

They are often surprised at the logical — and understandable — theology of this Christian religion. In fact, many people have become Christian Scientists when they have discovered how clearly it relates the teachings of the Bible to living in today's world.

Why not come into our Reading Room and learn this for yourself?

No need to speak to anyone . . . just come in and choose a chair and sit down to read. It could be the most inspiring and helpful time you've ever spent.

Selectmen's Meeting

The MBTA - rapid transit cars of greater Boston, will probably come to Wilmington, at the Wilmington-Reading line, with a station near Route 93. The Board of Selectmen were told this Monday evening, by Donald Graham, Director of Research and Development of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority. Graham also said that there was a possibility that the terminal would be at Route 128 in Reading.

Graham told the Selectmen that Federal aid is being requested for a study of extending the proposed route from Oak Grove, and Malden to Route 93. The study period, he said, would be for twelve months, and the answers should be known in 12 to 18 months.

A letter that the Selectmen received last week said that the proposed extension would be one of the 'Orange' line, from Haymarket Square to Route 93. The amount of money asked for the study is $648,000, and a two track, electrified line is proposed, with new modern stations, 'kiss-and-ride' and feeder bus interchanges facilities, all as proposed under the Mass Transportation Act of 1964, as amended.

Graham told the Selectmen Monday, in answer to questions, that the MBTA has the power to take land by eminent domain. In answer to a question by Chairman Boylen - Can Wilmington withdraw from the MBTA? - Graham said that Andover has signed up for contractual services, and the terminus would be on the 'largest land area'.

Selectman Miceli wanted to know if Wilmington's assessment, payable for MBTA services, would be higher if the terminus were to be in Wilmington. He was told by Graham that, as things stand now, the assessment would be higher. Miceli then moved that the Selectmen think about a letter to withdraw, and that they draft it next week.

The board, and spectators too, had some chuckles on the next discussion, between Mr Casey of the Telephone Company and Joe Gilligan, Wilmington's baseball coach. The discussion was on a proposal to locate a telephone pole at the corner of Middlesex Avenue and Federal Street, where Gilligan lives.

Mr Gilligan wasn't against the pole. He was just against accidents, and it was his belief that the pole would be hit by automobiles.

The corner does have more than its share of accidents, and while the two men squabbled in a good natured manner of the location of the pole everyone was chuckling.

Casey won. The Selectmen voted to go along with his proposal, and locate a pole ten feet from the corner of Federal Street. Gilligan spoke up to say that the 'pole won't last long', and Selectman Banda commented: 'Well Joe, it'll keep the cars from going onto your lot, and that's about all!'

Benevento Gravel Pit

A discussion on the Benevento Gravel Pit, carried over from last week, found Town Engineer Arthur Harding reporting recommendations of the Town Counsel that the Selectmen have a $10,000 bond on the pit, or a $5,000 cash deposit, before a permit be issued to allow operations to resume.

Banda and Miceli sat up and took notice, and Miceli said the price was 'too conservative'. He moved that it be $10,000 cash, or a $20,000 bond, and this was immediately and unanimously voted. Miceli then commented that this was perhaps not enough.

TM Morris wanted to know if the Selectmen still wanted Mr Benevento to appear in person, to get his permit, and they did. George Boylen added that he recommended that the 'Ten Commandments' as read off by the Town Engineer should be incorporated as a part of the permit, and Miceli said that they should be right on the back of the permit, and that the applicant should then sign it.

The Selectmen had been using the word 'license' during this discussion. Harding told them that the Town Counsel thought the word 'permit' should be used, since only the Selectmen were allowed to issue a permit.

Dry Basements

The story of a man on Kenwood Avenue who had been reported by Helen Casey of Redwood Avenue as having piped water from his cellar through three adjoining lots was next.

MT Morris read a report from the Building Inspector. That man and the Town Engineer had inspected the lots in question, the report said, and could find no drains in existence other than natural ones.

The report further stated that if there were drains they were not violating any existing law.

Morris then told the Selectmen that he had been talking with the developer, and that he had been told that a drain had been in there three years ago, but it was crushed and abandoned, and it had been on private property, over which, the TM said, the town had no control.

Mrs Casey was present. She wished to know, she told the Selectmen, how it could be that the house in question could pump water for two years, and then be dry this year.

Miceli wanted to know if the drain emptied in a brook, saying that if such was the case the town had jurisdiction, and in this he was backed by Banda. Miceli said that if anyone finds a drain in and around a brook, the Selectmen will instruct the Building Inspector and Town Engineer, on following it up.

But the status of the supposed drain, as of Monday night, was that it did not exist.

Other Business

The Selectmen turned down an invitation to participate in the Patriots Day parade in Concord.

Boylen read an item from the Dodge Bulletin (a trade paper for the building industry) saying that there would be a $60,000 gas station, for lease, at 275 Main Street.

The Selectmen approved of the Board of Public Welfare negotiating a renewal of the lease for the property they occupy for another year.

An order for 'land taking' on Elywood Road, and Jere Road, necessary as a preliminary for construction of the roads, was signed.

New Business

The chairman read a proclamation for Coffee Day for Crippled Children, on April 12th. Buttons will be issued in restaurants, which will allow the owner to drink as much coffee as he wishes on Good Friday. The money to be collected will assist crippled children and adults, of whom 2962 were assisted last year.

Miceli spoke on two bills before the Legislature.

House 4005 proposes that lot sizes, 70 feet wide and 200 feet deep be allowed, regardless of any municipal zoning. The Selectmen voted to send letters to Rep. Fred Cain and Senator MacKenzie opposing it. The second bill was House 4019, which, Miceli said, is supposed to broaden the powers of the towns over Billboards, but actually liberalizes the powers of the Outdoor Advertising proponents. The Selectmen also voted to oppose this bill.

The Mass Federation of Planning Boards has voted, Miceli said, to endorse the bill which he and the Planning Board had filed (Senate 834) which would restrict the use of fifty foot wide houselots. Chairman Boylen congratulated Miceli and Danny Gillis of the Planning Board at this news.

Miceli then went on to report a complaint about the Nichols St. Bridge, part of the cover for the water pipe was gone. The TM was told to take care of it.

The Middlesex County Bank Executive Committee has voted to convey a fifty foot right of way to the Town of Wilmington, from the end of Olson Street (the area beside the Post Office) towards Middlesex Avenue, for the consideration of $1. If the town does not build a street within two years, the letter from the bank said, the offer expires. Miceli commended Selectman Black and the TM, and Banda urged that the project of constructing a street from Church Street to Middlesex Avenue, across the Bank's parking lot, be put through as quickly as possible.

The price of grave lots, in the Wildwood Cemetery, is to increase. The new prices, set by the Commissioners, and effective May 1, are: 4 lots, $160 (up from $100); 6 lots $240 (up from $160); two lots $60 (up from $40); one lot $30 (up from $25). An infant's lot has been increased from $5 to $10.

The Selectmen learned of this as part of the information given about requests for transfers of funds - $500 to the Planning Board and $3000 to the Cemetery Department. The Cemetery will have lots available in six months, unless they can finish filling in land in land in Section G, and it was for this purpose that the money was asked.

Jack Quinn

Jack Quinn, of Woburn Street, who last week proposed a Citizens Drainage project, reported on his progress.

He said that the Board of Water Commissioners didn't want any streams to be lower than the ground water table, and that the natural conservation enthusiasts will not be wanting his committee to touch anything.

Members of Jack's committee, as reported to the Selectmen, include Bill Hooper of the Conservation Commission; Mrs Madelyn McKie of the Planning Board; Arnold Blake of the Board of Water Commissioners; the TM, the Town Engineer, the Highway Superintendent and the Town Counsel.

Quinn wanted the people to know that there are no funds available for the work, and that it must be a 'citizen effort'. 250 helpers are hoped for, for Saturday afternoon.

250 people, working for four hours, Quinn said, would be the equivalent of two town employees working for three months, and that would be a big savings, for 'all us taxpayers'.

Quinn also told the Selectmen that the use of DDT for mosquito control has now been banned, effective July first, and that the proper drainage of many wet areas would be helpful in controlling mosquitoes.

He was planning a meeting of his committee for Wednesday evening in the Hiller House.

The last item of town's business by the Selectmen was the granting of a license to the Rotary Club for its annual Carnival. It will be held April 15 thru April 20, at the corner of Lowell and Main Streets.

Planning Board transfers money for Engineering

Working with the Town Manager, the Wilmington Planning Board, Tuesday night, transferred from 'Planning' to 'Engineering' in their own accounts, the sum of $5000.

The money had been allocated for Consulting and Engineering. Now it will be used by the Town Engineer's Department.

TM Morris told the Board that they had a problem because of the cut in Engineering Funds, in the Town Meeting. There is, he said, more work for the Town Engineer this year, - public works projects and drainage projects, among others, and he told the Board that they should feel free to transfer other funds.

Bill Stickney of the Board said that he personally had felt quite shocked that the Town Engineer's budget had been reduced, and, he said, speaking of the transfer, 'It will gall me if I hear of some member of the Board of Selectmen say - 'Well, you had enough money'' and Danny Gillis spoke up to say 'We are going to suffer on the Planning End'

Part of the work of the evening was the inspection of large maps made by the Town Engineer's student assistants, for the current drainage projects.

Engineer Harding told the Board that he had been timing the work of producing a set of maps for the town, from the recent surveys.

One of his student engineers worked for five and a half hours, making one set of maps, in a special machine in his office. The materials cost about $9.00.

Morris told the Board that he has to have the Town Engineer make some layouts and special maps of the Nichols Street Bridge, in the near future.

The vote to transfer the money was unanimous.

701 Project

The Board met for two and a half hours with Professor Elliot, consultant to the board, his assistant Steve Elliot, and Charles Downs, planner, to discuss the 701 project, now that funds have been allocated by the Federal Government.

One of the keys to the project will be the preparation of an Official Map of Wilmington. Other work will have to wait until this is done.

Town Engineer Arthur Harding said he doubted if the map could be ready before the 15th of May. The map will have to be 'tied in' to the co-ordinates of the Massachusetts surveys. Woburn, Burlington and North Reading maps are now co-ordinated with the State Co-Ordinate system he said, but only parts of Wilmington, notably in the De Cenzo project in South Wilmington, the Raffi & Swanson property, and along Lowell Street. He felt that the work would have to be done outside his office.

TOWN MANAGER MORRIS: Telling the Planning Board, Tuesday night, that more engineering funds are a necessity, in spite of the Town Meeting vote. Mrs Madelyn McKie, chairman, is presiding over the meeting.

Gillis told his fellow members that the Board will 'have to do a selling job' when the map is finished 'much like that we did years ago, when Avco came to town!'

He went on to describe how the town had had a large number of neighborhood meetings and coffee hours, to explain why it was important to rezone for Avco. He felt that meetings of this type would be needed, to let the people know why an Official Map is so important.

Only half a dozen communities in Massachusetts have progressed to the point where they have an official map.

The board extended its contract with Professor Elliot for 90 days, pending the arrival of the 701 Funds from the Federal Government, at which time the contract will be terminated, and there will be a new start.

IT'S A WALKING CAST NOW

It's a long time, for Mrs Barbara Brown of Veranda Avenue, but she now has a 'walking cast' on her leg.

Mrs Brown broke her leg in January, while skating with her children. Tuesday the cast was changed, in the Choate Memorial Hospital, in Woburn, to one in which she can now get around.

"Outstanding Citizen" Award To Rep. Tanner

AN OLD FRIEND OF WILMINGTON: Rep. Frank Tanner of Reading was named Reading's Outstanding Citizen of the Year by the Reading Jaycees, a week ago. Tanner was honored by ceremonies held in the Hillview Country Club in North Reading. Presenting the Paul Revere bowl to Rep. Tanner is Reading Jaycee President Richard Allen.

League of Women Voters

A general meeting on the County Government was held on March 26th at the home of Mrs William Hooper of Marcia Road with twenty members and six guests attending. Mrs George Robertie was in charge of the program.

Six members of the County Government Committee from the Reading League of Women Voters presented the program which covered the administrative structure, executive branch and their duties in Middlesex County. Some of the material presented was based on actual interviews with the executives of Middlesex County.

County Government is responsible for administering an Engineering Department, Hospitals for Chronic Diseases, TB and for the aged, State Parks and Reservations, Police, Firemen, and Agricultural Training Schools, penal institutions and numerous other functions.

Originally counties were essentially judicial districts created for the sake of convenience because transportation was so poor in those days. Today, County Government in Massachusetts is set up solely for an administrative purpose. They do not have policy making functions. They operate as an arm of the State. Virtually all the functions being undertaken by the Counties are also being conducted on another level by the State.

County Government is an especially timely subject for study today because of a growing movement that County Government should be abolished—that the State could coordinate and run things more economically.

This is only the first phase of the League's study and with this basic information, we will go on to evaluate further the services of the County Government during the second year.

The resignation of Barbara Sullivan of Gunderson Road, as Voters Service Chairman for the League of Women Voters was regrettably accepted last week.

Mrs Sullivan announced she will be working for a candidate in the presidential elections. In view of the non-partisan policy of the League, she tendered her resignation as Chairman, but not as a member of the League. League members are encouraged to work for their political principles, but those on the Board or serving as Chairmen must first resign.

Board of Health Children's Clinics

Parents of children who will be registered for admission to the schools in September are reminded of a new law, in an announcement by James Durkee, Chairman of the Board of Health.

Chapter 590 of the Acts of 1967 became effective on December 5, 1967 and requires that all children attending public or private school, from Kindergarten through Grade Eight be successfully immunized against five communicable diseases. Immunization against Diphtheria, Pertussis (Whooping Cough), Tetanus (Lock Jaw), Measles and Poliomyelitis is now required unless exempted for medical or religious reasons.

In order to obtain medical exemption a statement from a physician is required giving reasons why one or more of the immunizations should not be administered.

In case of religious exemptions a special certificate must be completed by an official of the church or denomination involved.

Pertussis vaccine is medically contraindicated for children over six, and children who have had measles are considered immune as a result of having the disease, and immunization is not required.

Parents wishing to have their children immunized in clinics by the Wilmington Board of Health may bring them to Villanova Hall on the first Tuesday of each month, from 9:30 am to 10:30 am.

OH NO! Miriam Collucci, Town Collector of Wilmington, retired last Friday, and at 3 pm when she got down to the little room in the basement where the town hall employees have their coffee she found a nice cake awaiting her.

'Oh No!' was all she could say, as the cameraman appeared in the door and snapped this picture.

What biological changes the future will bring is anybody's guess.

Since the Old Stone Age, the human body has not changed significantly, not even to the size of the brain. Cro-Magnon man had a brain as large as that of any twentieth-century nuclear physicist, or larger.

We have fossil evidence that a race of men living in South Africa 150,000 years ago had the skull capacity for a brain one and one half times the size of ours.

Man is an enormously varied species; he has been intermingling his genetic strains since paleolithic times.

Human beings are taking ever longer to mature and longer also to grow old. The future may have a population of vigorous centenarians, and sages of a hundred and fifty!

The Wilmington Conservation

Committee is again accepting applications for the Massachusetts Junior Conservation Camp, for the first two weeks in July.

Applications should be made in writing to the Conservation Commission, in the Town Hall, by April 15th, including name, address, birth date, grade in school and telephone number. Personal interviews are to be held by the Commission on May 2nd at 7:30 pm in the Hiller House. Mrs George Robertie 658-2206, may be called for more information.

The camp trains youth, selected to attend, to appreciate natural resources, and to use them wisely. Boys between the ages of 14 and 17 who have demonstrated an interest in outdoor programs compatible with the aims of conservation is eligible. This year three Wilmington boys will be selected.

ONE PHEASANT POWER: Broke this plate glass window, Mrs Thelma Wentworth, of 9 Christine Drive, looks out through the remains of a window shattered by a hen pheasant, last Friday morning. The pheasant apparently saw reflections of trees in the window and thought she was flying into a wooded area. She killed herself in the process. The shattering explosion occurred just as Mr and Mrs Wentworth were sitting down to a post-breakfast cup of coffee, in their living room.

In making her announcement Miss Visconti stated that she believes that active, interested Committee Women are needed who are capable of dealing with the challenges facing the State Government today. The State Committee Woman should be in contact with Town, Ward and City Committees, providing constant communication between local organizations and the State Committee. She should endeavor to bring assistance from the State Committee to the local groups in any area of their work.

We cannot wait for every two or four years, she says, to show confidence in our democracy. The work is done in between elections, and the basic work is done at the grass roots level.

Miss Visconti began her own direct work with the Democratic Party, as a member of the Wilmington Democratic Town Committee, and became so involved in its activities that she was elected to serve as its secretary from 1960 to 1964.

Miss Visconti has been twice elected a delegate to the Democratic State Convention, and was chosen campaign co-ordinator for the US Senatorial campaign. She has also been a member of 'Campaign Conference for Democratic Women' since its inception, and has attended all its meetings in Washington, DC. She will be in attendance again, in May of this year.

Miss Visconti is well known in the transportation field, and has served as Corresponding Secretary, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Womens Traffic Club of New England. She is active in church and community projects, and has worked at the polls in local, state and national elections to help accomplish the victories of many of the legislative leaders who now hold office. She has also worked tirelessly to recruit the youth of the town to involvement in politics, recognizing the need for the younger voter to become involved in his government in this nation, which is fast becoming a nation of youth.

Miss Visconti is presently a member of the Wilmington Democratic Town Committee, and was a candidate for State Committee Woman in 1964. She has served two terms as Notary Public for the Commonwealth, and is now serving a third term. She has also served on the Board of Trustees of the Tewksbury State Hospital, and is an active member and office holder in the lodge of Sons of Italy in Wilmington. She lives with her parents, Mr and Mrs Anthony Visconti, at 28 Nassau Avenue, in Wilmington.

Qualified by knowledge and experience, Miss Visconti states: 'I am fully prepared to devote unlimited time to be truly representative by including town and city interests with the State Committee. It will be an honor and a privilege to serve the people of the Seventh Middlesex District, and toward this goal I pledge all my efforts.'

PAL & SAM Mail to Servicemen

J. Kenney, Asst Postmaster in Wilmington announced this week some ways to help America's Servicemen receive the best service.

With a few minor exceptions, the rates and regulations in this article apply to mail addressed to all servicemen with an Armed Forces Post Office Address.

Mail sent through Armed Forces Post Offices must include the full five-digit APO or FPO number.

Correctly addressed mail can be immediately sorted to planes flying over seas. Letters and gift packages must be addressed to a specific serviceman.

Some items cannot be mailed to military post offices. These include matches, lighter fluid, magnetic materials and radioactive matter. If in doubt, ask your local postmaster.

Three Services Speed Packages to Overseas Servicemen: Packages marked PAL...Pay regular parcel post rate to the U S Port plus a flat charge of $1.00 for air service from your city to overseas base. Packages up to 30 lbs in weight and 60 inches in combined length and girth accepted.

For small packages, consider Air Parcel Post. On packages weighing 2 lbs or under, Air Parcel Post costs even less than PAL.

SAM Packages Pay Only: Parcel post rate to the U S Port City. They are carried by rail or truck to Port City, then airlifted overseas as Space Available Mail (SAM). Parcels up to 5 lbs in weight and 60 inches in combined length and girth accepted.

PAL and SAM Rates are even lower for books, phonograph records and other items entitled to special 4th Class Rate. For the faster PAL service--airlifted all the way--the postage for three pounds of books would be 24 cents plus the $1.00 PAL fee--for a total charge of $1.24. On packages weighing more than 5 pounds and not exceeding 30 pounds, families mailing books overseas must use PAL for low-cost airlift service.

Sound Recorded Personal Messages can be mailed at the rate of 6 cents for the first two ounces and two cents for each additional ounce. (A plastic tape carrying messages from servicemen's family and friends in Chicago may weigh only two ounces--requiring six cents postage. It could reach the soldier in Vietnam within 5 to 7 days.)

A 6-cent stamp provides airlift service overseas and in nearly all cases within the US. Airmail letters will receive priority air service--guaranteed the fastest air service within the US.

News Magazines and Papers published at least once a week and featuring principally current news are now airlifted from the US Port to Vietnam and many other overseas areas designated as 'Hardship isolated or combat support' areas.

Assistant Postmaster Kenney also warned that the value of your gift is in the packing: 1. Cushion your gifts in boxes of solid fiberboard, metal or wood. 2. Place his name, address, and list of contents inside package. 3. On shipments to American servicemen stationed abroad many foreign countries require custom's declarations. They are not required to Vietnam. When in doubt, check with your postmaster. 4. It is best to omit outside wrappers if the box makes an adequate shipping container. 5. If wrapping, use a heavy kraft paper similar to that used for grocery bags. 6. Be sure to include the full five-digit Armed Forces Post Office number with his address. 7. A return address is required on all packages.

Postal rates and services in this article are those in effect as of February, 1968. They are subject to change.

Student Selectmen

and said 'We get lots of things by the grapevine'.

Selectman Montuori said he was a hockey player, so that he had skated outside the rinks only a few times, but they he found that the places for recreational skating were crowded. Even though he liked hockey, he thought that the recreational areas, such as the flooded tennis courts, should be restricted solely to recreational skating.

Miceli suggested a center, such as the Woburn Boys Club, which, he said, had had matching funds from the Carnegie Foundation. He told the Selectmen that they could put an article into the warrant, to form and staff a Youth Center, and it would be legal.

Miceli wanted to know if the young men had approached the School Committee.

'Oh No!' said McAllister. That's a separate branch!

'How well we know!' Morris said. Madelyn McKie, chairman of the Planning Board (there were no Planning Board student members) told how the town had voted to acquire four acres in the Hathaway Acres - Esquire Estates area for park purposes.

Dave Knight found this to be a case of Plenty of Room, but Nothing to Do in it. Montuori wanted to know if the Town Lights, at the Town Park field would be on for them, or would it be just for the Recreational League. Miceli assured him that the lights were in charge of the Recreational Department, and that they should be aware of it.

Danny Gillis, of the Planning Board, also present, told the young men that in 1958 or 1959 the Recreation Commission had suggested supporting sports, and the use of equipment, and that the School Committee had supported the idea. It would be found, he said, in the Planning Board report of 1960.

Montuori thought that the town should be commended for its summer programs for kids, but these were daytime programs, and the working students had nothing to do in the evenings.

The St. Thomas Youth Center, he said, was a good idea, but it hadn't been through a summer yet. Is it enough?

Gillis suggested that the young men should contact the Recreation Commission - George Dyas is the chairman, and ask for a program.

McAllister had a report to make on the street sweeping program. He said they had been taken on a trip around the town, and had seen the DPW street sweeper in operation, and had heard a long story about how it replaced six men, with the two who were operating it, and how there were now six men up in back of the trucks, sleeping.

Miceli spoke up to say 'You should have gone with them, Sterling!'

Morris: 'I was with them half the day - I couldn't stay all day!'

Chairman McAllister wanted to know why they didn't wash the police cars. Chuck Nickerson said they looked 'pretty terrible'. McAllister said the students were having a car wash, at the High School, on Saturday, and Morris volunteered to sponsor the Police Cars.

Montuori wanted to know who was responsible for the condition of the police cars. Sterling said the Town Manager was, and he pointed to Lyford's back, and made a motion of turning a knife in the Student Town Manager's back.

Everyone was grinning and having a wonderful time.

Bob Woods, a Lieutenant in the Fire Department, who was watching, thought that there should be an incentive program, and that the men in the Highway and Police Departments would take better care of their vehicles.

McAllister said that one of the men in the Highway Department had appeared in a wig, with a false nose, and glasses. He didn't know whether or not this was his regular working uniform.

Morris grinned and said 'He wasn't a regular town employee!'

McAllister then wanted to know about the extra $200,000 appropriated in the Town Meeting for Welfare Funds. Miceli said it would be rectified.

An inquiry was made about Middlesex Avenue and Clark Streets, and the filling of pot holes. Was this in the Selectmen's jurisdiction?

Morris moved closer behind Lyford, and again made twisting motions, of a knife in Lyford's back. Then, seriously, he explained to the boys that water level, and the temperature had a lot to do with street repairs, and that bituminous concrete was not made for use in this weather. Therefore, the pot holes and to be 'cold-patched'.

The town had graded in front of the public library, but actually all the roads need a base first, so that water can run off. Consequently there were 'breaking out all over'.

Proper maintenance, Morris said, cost $800 per mile per year. The town doesn't raise that kind of money. The streets should be 'sealed' every three years, but this would mean a 10% increase in taxes.

Lyford asked what steps could be taken.

Morris was ready. 'Raise a lot of money, and stop building schools!'

It would have to be a long range plan, he told the Student Selectmen. It would take two inches of 'hot mix' and this kind of work could not just be done in little areas. One mile of hot mix costs $12,000.

Chuck Nickerson wanted to know if West Street could be widened. It was dangerous, he said.

Morris explained the workings of Chapter 90, and said that West Street was a Chapter 90 road, and that perhaps the Selectmen would plan for money for this road next year. This year the money was going to be used for the Lowell and Woburn Street junction. West Street would take a whole year's allocation.

Montuori wanted to know about Burlington Avenue, between Dell Drive and Boutwell Street.

Morris said that this was with money from the 1967 fund, and that the Highway Department had gone as far as they could go, because of ledge. He added that the Highway Department had no business building that road - it should have been constructed by an outside firm. The work was done under the supervision of the State DPW.

Dave Knight wanted to know about the Jere Road 'taking', voted that night. Morris then explained the Betterment Act, and how the street had been accepted by the town under that act.

Chairman McAllister asked about the planning for underground wires. Boylen and Miceli explained the Telephone Company's agreement, and that the Light Company didn't want to go along.

Gillis told about Wicks Drive, off Faulkner Avenue, where there were telephone wires for six or eight houses, underground. This, he said, was a start.

Morris then explained how many of the things mentioned had to be ruled by the economics of the situation, and what municipalities and private enterprises could afford.

Most of the town budget, he told the boys, went to schools. It would take another half million dollars a year to maintain the schools properly. Because of this many towns were having to let the physical plant deteriorate slightly until the school building programs were completed.

It was like a home, he said. A certain amount of money comes in, and no more can be produced. If the electric light cables were to go underground, the electric light bill might be $5 a month more.

There was a long discussion about the status of railroad bridges, and who maintained them, and why they weren't repaired. Miceli spoke of the Nichols Street bridge, and the TM told the boys to ask Representative Cain in the morning - he was their man!

Chairman McAllister had a 'special' of his own. He wanted to know why their assessments were so high, when all of their services up at Martin's Pond were supplied by North Reading. He was speaking of Bates Avenue, Larson Road and the extension of Virginia, in what the Town Crier has dubbed 'The Lost Colony'.

Morris told McAllister that he had to come to Wilmington to school and that that cost between $600 and $800, and that if he 'Caught any of the highway department doing anything up there, to let him know'. McAllister, he pointed out, lives on an unaccepted street, serviced by plows.

The boys thanked the Selectmen and they explained that they were looking to be 'Paid for the Day'. TM Morris retorted quickly that it would be 'at the same rate as the Selectmen' (nothing, Ed), and thanked them for coming.

CHAIRMAN McALLISTER PRESIDES: At the meeting of the Student Board of Selectmen, with Wilmington's Selectmen being relegated to secondary positions. At right, near McAllister, is the Student Town Manager, Richard Lyford, and Student Selectmen David Knight and Chuck Nickerson are on the same side of the table, with Bill Montuori on the opposite side.

Death

Frank Venuti, father of John Venuti, of 99 Grove Avenue, in Wilmington, died suddenly at the Melrose Wakefield Hospital on Friday, March 29th. Mr Venuti, who was 58 years old at the time of his death, was born in East Boston, Mass., and had lived there for many years, before taking up his residence at 22 Brook Street in Reading, where he resided for 26 years.

He was a Master Plumber being employed by the Baldeassar Plumbing Company at the time of his death.

Beside his son, John, he is survived by his children: Mrs Ralph Spagnolo, Jr. of Revere, Mrs Thomas Graves of Lowell, Mrs Eugene Hubbard of South Carolina, Mrs Dennis Draper of Michigan, Mr William Venuti of Reading, and Frank J. Venuti, of the United States Air Forces.

He is also survived by nine brothers and sisters: Miss Anne Venuti, Joseph, Virgil, Arthur, Michael, Harry, all of East Boston, Armando of Salem, New Hampshire, Mrs Robert Britt and Mrs Victoria Pasco, both of Revere.

The funeral was held from the Rapino Memorial Home, East Boston on Monday, April 1 at 9:30 a.m., followed by a High Mass of Requiem at Our Lady of Mt Carmel Church, East Boston at 10:15 am. Burial followed in the family lot at Puritan Lawn Cemetery in Peabody.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of the W. S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home on Main St in Wilmington.

Doc has Little Fish!

The Town Crier, two weeks ago, published a picture of Dr. Gerald Fagan, surrounded by a flood, in his back yard.

To relieve that flood a ditch was dug. The flood has now gone but there are still little pools in that ditch. And in those little pools are little fish - one year old chain pickerel.

The Space Flight Log at Wilmington High

'The Space Flight Log' a series of 80 slides, taken on a Hasselblad Camera, who shown to students of Wilmington High School three times last week, by Ronald Polhen, Production Manager of the Hasselblad firm.

The first showing, a week ago last night, was by courtesy of the Wilmington Kiwanis Club. Joseph Sottile, a member of the Wilmington Kiwanis, is Regional Manager of Paffard Incorporated, US representatives of Hasselblad, a Swedish firm. Mr Polhen is Swedish, with a charming Swedish accent.

The photos were of the Space Flights, many of them taken from 850 miles in the air, and held the youngsters entranced. The slides showed the perfect lift off of the first Mercury Booster Rocket, the first US Walk in Space, and every stage of the most recent space rendezvous. From 850 miles up the great Himalayas looked like rippled plains, and one could see half of the continent of Australia all at once. The Hasselblad camera is so precise that one could see bad weather clouds over New England, a sandstorm in the Sahara, and even air pollution over Los Angeles. No one will doubt what Mr Polhen told his audiences - that the United States Government has authorized the use of this camera when America first lands on the moon.
